WORLD JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIP

The World Junior Championship, restricted to players under twenty years of age as of January 1st, 2006, is currently underway in the Armenia capital of Yerevan. A thirteen-round Swiss, the tournament is held in two sections ("junior" and "girls"), and attracts some of the strongest junior players from around the world. This year's edition has attracted one hundred and twenty participants, each section led by a Chinese player: GM Yue Wang, 2644, sixty-second on the latest FIDE ratings list, and WFM Yifan Hou, 2481, tenth on the overall women's list - and she's only twelve years old!

Canada has two representatives in the "junior" section, Canadian Junior Champion Bindi Cheng of Burnaby and Nikita Kraiouchkine of Granby, Quebec. The section is tough - of the eighty-three players, there are eleven GMs and twenty-two IMs. Bindi received a bye in round one and has since lost to Georgian IM Davit Magalashvili and Iranian FM Homayoon Toufighi.

Pairings and results can be found at <http://www.armchess.am/>, along with PGNs of the top thirty boards from each round.

B.C. CHAMPIONSHIPS

Both our provincial individual championships take place this weekend. The B.C. Open returns to the Interior for the first time since 1991 in an event organized by Peter Kerek in Kamloops, while the B.C. Closed takes place at the Vancouver Bridge Centre with the following combatants:

	CFC	FIDE
Jonathan Berry	2295	2257
Lucas Davies	2178	2178
Louie Jiang	2090	1965
Brian McLaren	2220	2169
Dragoljub Milicevic	2118	2142
Roger Patterson	2165	2160
Alfred Pechisker	2278	2170
Howard Wu	2186	2178
Average	2191	2152

As far as this writer can remember, this is the first B.C. Championship in which all the participants have FIDE ratings. With Jack Yoos, our champion for the past three years, now living in Montreal there is no clear favourite, and the championship is very much "up for grabs." So make chess part of your Thanksgiving weekend: either play in the BC open in Kamloops and try to qualify for next year's Closed, or drop by the Bridge Centre and watch as this year's champion is decided! Round times for the Closed are 6 pm on Friday, 10 am and 4 pm for Saturday to Monday.

STEPHEN FRANCIS SMITH

Last issue we profiled the first B.C. Champion, John Ewing, who won the title in a tournament held in 1916. But some sources list a predecessor - Dr. Stephen F. Smith, who is said to have been B.C. Champion in 1915. Before examining this claim in detail, here is a short biography (it should be noted that this research is ongoing, and hopefully further information will come to light on Dr. Smith.)

According to obituaries in the British Chess Magazine (BCM) and the [London] Times, Doctor Stephen Francis Smith died in London on May 12th, 1928, at age sixty-seven. This would place his date of birth around 1861. Census records give his place of birth as Ontario, Canada; he had a younger sister who was born in Seaforth in 1870, so perhaps he was also born there. Sometime in the mid-1870s Smith's family emigrated to London, England. Following in his father's profession Smith trained as a doctor, eventually becoming a Member of the Royal College of Surgeons and a Licentiate of the Apothecaries' Society, the normal qualifications to be a general practitioner at the time. However, census records describe both Smith and his father William as homeopathic medical practitioners, this at a time when considerable friction and antagonism existed between the traditional medical community and homeopathy.

Little else is known for certain about the rest of Smith's life; his profession would have made him a man of means, which allowed him to travel fairly frequently in later life. He visited both Ostende and Paris for tournaments, and seems to have left the British Isles for much of the duration of World War One. This time he appears to have spent in North America. Perhaps he still had family in Ontario, but it is known Smith was in Vancouver from late 1914 till at least April 1915, and was also in Southern California in 1917.

As a chess player Dr. Smith was a strong amateur who was bested by the lower echelon of professional masters. For example, Smith often played in the British Championship but nearly always in one of the minor sections; he played several times at Hastings but never in the Premier. The Minor "Tourney" of the 1899 London International is typical - Smith scored 50% to finish seventh out of twelve, behind the likes of Marshall, Marco, and Mieses. A long-time member of the City of London Chess Club (he joined in 1887), Smith won its championship in 1895 and placed second in 1905-06. His best individual games were wins against a young Max Euwe in the 1919 Hastings Victory Congress and Vera Menchik at Hastings 1927-28; at his worst he suffered from the tactical oversights which John Nunn believes were a common feature of play in that era - see the games against Marshall and Koltanowski below.

The first record of Dr. Smith in B.C. occurs in the [Vancouver] Daily News Advertiser of December 6th, 1914, which noted he would give a simultaneous exhibition on the following Wednesday at the Vancouver Chess Club. Smith went on to win the club championship in the spring of 1915, along with giving a lecture on endings (February 2) and drawing with Frank Marshall in a Vancouver simul by the latter on February 17th. After this he seems to have left B.C.: there is no further mention of his presence in local sources.

However, this does not end his association with Canada. At the end of 1920 the BCM reported that a match for the "championship of Canada has been arranged between Sydney E. Gale, the Canadian champion, and Dr. S.F. Smith, late champion of Vancouver and ex-champion of the City of London Chess Club, England." The match was to be the best score out of nine games, draws excluded. Gale lived in Hamilton; if Dr. Smith still had relatives in Ontario, this may explain how the match came to take place. In any event, the match was abandoned after each player had scored one victory, "Mr. Gale being obliged to withdraw because of business reasons." [Victoria Daily Colonist, February 6th, 1921]

In 1924, in conjunction with the Olympic Games in Paris, a chess team event was organized. Unlike future chess olympiads, this event followed the ideals and organization of the Olympic Games: only non-professionals were allowed to take part, and everyone competed as an individual, the number of players on a "team" being variable. Dr. Smith played in the tournament as the sole representative of Canada, although there is no indication by whose authority he did this. During the event meetings and discussions took place with regard to the formation of an International Chess Federation. The Federation was duly inaugurated at the end of the Paris tournament, with fifteen countries signing the roll as first members; Dr. Smith signed on behalf of Canada. [The first president was Dr. Alexander Rueb of Holland, who had lost to Smith in the preliminary rounds of the team tournament.]

Chess Champion of British Columbia?

Dr. Smith is first mentioned as a B.C. Champion in the August 1925 edition of BCM; in a short report on the 1925 championship a list is given of champions for the previous ten years, headed by Dr. Smith in 1915. He is also so named in three separate articles in 1928, two in the chess column of the Victoria Daily Colonist, the last in his obituary in the BCM. The order of appearance of the references is also important. The Daily Colonist chess column ran from 1916 to the early 1930s and had two editors in its history: Cyril F. Davie initially, then Thomas H. Piper after the early 1920s. Inclusion of local news in the column was infrequent; instead, both Davie and Piper relied heavily on international news stories from English sources, predominately the BCM and the chess column in The Field. All the references to Dr. Smith being a provincial champion in B.C. sources occur after the August 1925 BCM article, none before, and all these references occur at least ten years after the event in which Dr. Smith supposedly won the title. Contemporary B.C. sources (i.e., from 1915/16) state that he won the Vancouver Chess Club championship, but there is no mention of there being a B.C. championship in 1915, nor of Smith winning it. All contemporary reports indicate the first championship tournament was in 1916, won by John Ewing; half of the participants in the event had also taken part in the Vancouver CC championship the previous year, and would have been very much aware if Ewing had a predecessor for the title.

What we are left with appears to be a "fisherman's tale" of chess exploits: Dr. Smith wins the Vancouver CC championship in 1915, but by 1920 this has turned into the Vancouver championship (see quote in connection with the Gale match above), finally becoming the B.C. championship in 1925, the latter two achievements first being mentioned in sources from the other side of the Atlantic. Dr. Smith may have been the strongest player in B.C. in 1915, but it is apparent that the honour of being the first B.C. champion rests with John Ewing.
